The sire evaluations, as summarized in this list, are appraisals based on production performance information available through DHIA.

The contemporary herdmate comparisons used in the USDA-DHIA Sire Summaries are especially effective in reducing environmental influences arising from herd, year, and season of calving. The primary purpose of the summaries is to use daughter-herdmate differences, as well as predicted differences in evaluating bulls on the basis of estimated breeding value or transmitting ability for milk and butterfat yield. While these evaluations represent the most reliable methods available, their usefulness in ranking bulls may be seriously limited when: (1) only 1 or few herds are represented in the summary, (2) less than 15 to 25 daughters are represented in the summary, or (3) daughter averages only are used. Under such conditions, it is especially important to supplement the sire summary with additional information from the herd(s) in which the daughters made their records. Under any circumstance, caution should be used in predicting results based on a single mating.

The sire summaries listed, and especially those representing initial or preliminary evaluations, should be supplemented with related and other information from the herd(s) in which the daughters are located. A personal evaluation of herd feeding and management conditions is highly desirable.

When a non-AI sire evaluation is based on 5 to 9 daughter-herdmate comparisons and an AI evaluation is based on 5 to 24 comparisons, these should be considered "preliminary."

DHIA SIRE SUMMARY LIST, AUGUST 1963-NOVEMBER 1965

Ayrshire, Guernsey, Holstein, Jersey, Brown Swiss, Milking Shorthorn, Red Dane, Mixed Breed, and Red Poll Sires

This cumulative DHIA Sire Summary List contains information for 1,033 Ayrshire, 5,366 Guernsey, 17,342 Holstein, 3,706 Jersey, 1,082 Brown Swiss, 295 Milking Shorthorn, 4 Red Dane, 8 Mixed Breed, and 9 Red Poll sires. These summaries represent the most recent appraisal on all sires evaluated by the Animal Husbandry Research Division, ARS, between August 1963 and November 1965. A sire summary record is compiled for a sire when five or more of his AI or non-AI daughters have lactation records reported. Only daughters with herdmates are used to determine whether a sire meets the minimum requirements for evaluation. AI and non-AI daughters are summarized separately, and each category must meet requirements independently. This report contains the latest USDA summaries for the following categories: (1) Five or more AI or non-AI progeny with herdmates available for the first time, (2) all sires that had a 50 percent increase in number of daughters, (3) all AI sires reported as in service, and (4) sires for which special requests for summaries were received.

All production records used in sire summaries consist of lactation records of 305 days or less and standardized to a mature equivalent, twice-a-day milking basis. When more than one lactation is available for a cow, all records for both the daughter and her herdmates are averaged and used to represent her performance. Incomplete records, which are reported as terminated by (1) abortion, (2) culling for low production, or (3) sold for dairy purposes, are extended to a 305-day basis, and used in compiling the sire summaries. Records that are deleted and not used for summaries include those coded as complete but less than 180 days in length, those coded as incomplete but less than 15 days in length, those estimated, or those initiated by abortion. However, incomplete records may not be included for cows that calved prior to 1959.

Lactations that were not identified with a standard 8-digit DHIA herd code were not used in sire summaries computed after May 1965. This change may reduce the total number of daughters averaged for some sires, but will not reduce the number of daughters with herdmates.

Pedigree information (sire, dam, and birth date) is not available the first time a sire is summarized and may not be shown for some bulls, particularly those summarized for the first time in November 1965. The date of the sire summary, which is the most recent summary of the sire in question is reported under the heading "Last Listed". The ARS publications represented and their dates are as follows: 7-63, ARS 44-132; 11-63, ARS 44-135; 3-64, ARS 44-140; 5-64, ARS 44-145; 8-64, ARS 44-149; 11-64, ARS 44-153; 2-65, ARS 44-157; 5-65, ARS 44-159; 8-65, ARS 44-165; 11-65, ARS 44-168.

Counts of the number of herds will not be shown for AI sires summarized prior to August 1964, or for non-AI sires summarized prior to November 1964. The number of daughters with herdmates, and their average number of records per daughter (Rec/Dau) are shown immediately preceding the daughter averages for milk and fat. Records-per-daughter is defined as total number of records divided by number of daughters.

If a bull is in an AI stud, the code is shown under "Stud Code". A list of stud codes is shown on page 4. A "PD" shown under the heading "AI" indicates that the information on this line is based on AI daughters. A "blank" in this position indicates that the summary is based on non-AI daughters.

Under the columns headed "DIFF" are shown Predicted Difference for AI progeny, and unadjusted differences from herdmates for non-AI daughters. Predicted Differences based on AI progeny will always be preceded by the two letters, "PD." Negative differences are indicated by preceding minus (-) signs.

USING THE SIRE SUMMARY DATA

The sire summary information pertains only to the milk and butterfat production. When a non-AI sire evaluation is based on 5 to 9 daughter-herdmat comparisons and an AI evaluation is based on 5 to 24 comparisons, these should be considered "preliminary".

Preliminary evaluations should be considered only as an indication, and not conclusive evidence, of the breeding value of a sire. In general, if the data are unselected, the greater the number of comparisons of daughters versus herdmates included in an evaluation, the more reliable the evidence of the sire's breeding value. However, if a non-AI summary contains 25 unselected comparisons and an AI evaluation contains 50-60 unselected comparisons, in 25 or more herds, additional data do not greatly increase the accuracy of ranking the sires according to breeding value.

In the use of the daughter-herdmat procedure, the desirable sire is one which markedly increases the production of his daughters over that of their herdmates. This is because the sire's daughters and their herdmates should have had an equal opportunity to produce. The difference of the production of a sire's daughters and their herdmates is roughly the same from one level of herd production to another. Generally, a sire with a markedly negative daughter-herdmat comparison should not be expected to raise the production level of a herd.

These production data for the daughters and their herdmates should be supplemented by additional information gathered from the herd(s) in which the daughters made their records. A personal evaluation of the herd management and of feeding conditions in a herd, where a daughter or group of daughters made their records, is highly desirable when evaluating a natural-service sire.

CALCULATION OF USDA-DHIA SIRE SUMMARY DATA

The herdmate (or contemporary) comparison is useful because it removes from the evaluation of a sire's breeding value complications arising from herd, year, and season of freshening variations in production.

Herd-year-seasons are based upon a 5-month moving average. The appropriate average for the daughter of the sire is obtained by averaging all records of daughters of other sires calving in the herd in the same month as the daughters, in the previous 2 months, and in the succeeding 2 months. For example, the herdmate average for a sire's daughter calving in March would be obtained by averaging the production of all cows, except her paternal sisters, calving in that herd from January through May. All comparisons included in these summaries are on a within-breed basis.

Because the usefulness of the herdmate average is dependent in part upon the number of herdmates available, the herdmates' production is adjusted to place the herdmate data of daughters on a more comparable basis. For each individual lactation of a daughter of a sire summarized between August 1963 and May 1965, the herdmate average was corrected as follows:

$$\text{Adj. Herdmate av.} = \text{Breed season av.} + \frac{\text{No. Herdmates}}{\text{No. Herdmates} + 1} (\text{Herdmate av.} - \text{Breed season av.})$$

The breed season averages are calculated from the nationwide 305-day-2X-ME DHIA lactation averages for cows of the breed in question calving in the years 1958-62. This is done for both milk and fat.

A more refined base was introduced in the August 1965 summary. For each daughter of a sire summarized in August or November 1965 the Adjusted Herdmate Average was computed as follows:

$$\text{Adj. Herdmate av.} = \text{Regional Breed-year-season av.} + \frac{\text{No. Herdmates}}{\text{No. Herdmates} + 1} (\text{Herdmate av.} - \text{Regional Breed-year-season av.})$$

The regional breed-year-season averages are calculated from the 305-day-2X-ME DHIA lactations of cows calving from January 1, 1950, to May 1, 1964. Three regional groupings are used for Ayrshire and Brown Swiss, 4 for Guernsey and Jersey, 14 for Holstein, and averages for Milking Shorthorn, Red Dane, and Red Poll are based on all cows calving in the United States for the year-season in question. The primary cause of differences in the number of regions used for each breed was the number of available lactations. The States composing each region are shown in Appendix table 1.

Both natural-service sires and AI sires are summarized on the basis of the daughters' average minus the average of the Adjusted Herdmates' Averages. Under AI conditions, where a sire's daughters are scattered over many herds, additional adjustments can be made to the daughter-herdmate data to slightly increase the accuracy of comparing different sires used in AI. The daughter-herdmate difference tends to slightly decrease algebraically as the production level of herds in which the sires are used increases. This is because those herds tend to have cows of somewhat higher producing ability. The following step adjusts for this phenomenon:

$$\text{Adj. Daughter av.} = \text{Daughter av.} - 0.9 (\text{Adj. Herdmate av.} - \text{Breed av.})$$

This step serves to increase (over the daughter-herdmate difference) the summary of a sire used in high-producing herds and to decrease the summary of an AI sire used in low-producing herds. The breed average production used is compiled from all DHIA cows of the breed calving in 1962 and 1963 and is listed at the bottom of this page for each breed.

In order to compare sires that have widely varying numbers of offspring, it is necessary to adjust the above value for each sire in accordance with the number of progeny available. The Predicted Difference, which is the expected deviation of a sire's daughters from their breed average herdmates (predicted breeding value), is calculated for the AI data of a sire as follows:

$$\text{Predicted Diff.} = \frac{\text{No. of daus.}}{\text{No. of daus.} + 20} (\text{Adj. Daughter av.} - \text{Breed av.})$$

This gives the final estimate of the breeding merit of an AI sire. With daughters scattered in many different herds, the reliability of this rating can approach maximum accuracy with a very large number of progeny. In contrast, where each sire's daughters are largely in a single herd, the accuracy of comparing sires is neither great nor materially enhanced by including more than 25 unselected progeny. The Predicted Difference rating is an estimate of the average difference from herdmates of many future daughters sired by the sire, where these progeny are unselected and scattered throughout all different types of herd-environmental conditions. The difference is based upon nationwide DHIA conditions as a whole. It is the most reliable method currently available for this purpose. It is applicable to individual dairymen in their choice of AI sires since a given number of sires will rank similarly in breeding value both within and throughout a large number of herds.
